

Apostle Jacqueline Peart is a highly sought-after and inspirational leadership coach, mentor, speaker and author with 11 published titles to-date. An ordained international minister, she is the founder of Jacqueline Peart International Ministries (JPIM), the home of the International Wholeness Centre, an equipping centre which trains leaders in the five-fold ministry; and the Wholeness Academy, a programme of courses, which helps thousands around the globe to find and live a life of wholeness through Jesus Christ.

Apostle Jacqueline is known as an active advocate for living and leading in wholeness. She specialises in a whole-person approach that promotes a healthy, balanced and authentic sense of being. Her passion is to see men and women of all ages live the abundant and fruitful lives that is rightfully theirs through the finished work of the Cross. She supports them with building secure identities and a clear sense of purpose so that they can walk in their destinies without fear, doubt, or compromise.

Apostle Jacqueline is also recognised as a leader of leaders and has served on a number of leadership and oversight board's that include, The Cinnamon Network Advisory Council, Salvation for the Nations Network and Reformation 3 Ministries. She is a pioneer in women's ministry leadership, having played a crucial role in training thousands of women who feel a call to preach or establish ministries both in and outside the UK. She specialises in creating safe spaces where all leaders feel listened to and heard, equipping them to overcome any hidden obstacles preventing them from becoming the dynamic legacy creators God calls them to be.

As a speaker, Jacqueline is known for her warm and dynamic style of delivery, a gift that in 2009 earned her a position as one of the UK's leading women preachers by Keep the Faith Magazine, and, in 2017 and 2024, one of the UK's leading black women of influence. She is a regular guest on radio broadcasts, such as Premier Christian Radio, sharing words of wisdom and insights to listeners.

Apostle Jacqueline Peart has been a businesswoman for over 27 years and has run her own training and development company, Training with Purpose International (TWPI), offering high quality training and development solutions including leadership coaching to Christian and secular organisations. TWPI was selected as a case study by the UK's Commission for Employment and Skills as an example of exemplary employability skills and personal development training.

Despite a demanding timetable Apostle Jacqueline Peart still finds time to have fun, enjoy life, socialise and play games such as Monopoly, Words with friends and Scrabble. Apparently, she is the family's reigning Scrabble champion (though word on the street says it's actually her sister, Marcia!)
